Dear Mr. Chong:

We wanted to let you know how pleased we are with the installation of the Anti Bacterial Wash-down Unit (ABWU) in our fresh seafood retail outlet. As an established and recognized seafood retailer operating in major shopping centers, we have used a number of cleaning products and ways over the years in an effort to maintain our outlets to the high possible standard with minimal fish odor to provide pleasant and hygienic shopping environment.

When we first installing the ABWU unit at the main water line, we were very impressed with the unpleasant odor being greatly reduced. However, after having used the equipment for several months now, not only has it proved to be a remarkably piece of equipment to disinfecting the work benches, floors and every possible wet areas with simple wash down regularly with purified water, but its ability as a natural disinfectant is economical and allows us to environmental responsible.

The installation of ABWU has definitely helped to reduce the chance of bacterial contamination in situations such as food processing and preparation.

We would not hesitate recommending the use of this equipment to anyone seeking a similar application.

Sincerely,

Suang V Lee
Director
