To Whom It May Concern:

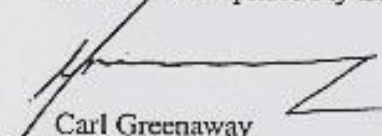

Makmur Enterprises Pty Ltd is a frozen food manufacture and has been operational for 25 years. Water treatment within our organization is a vital for our daily operations in which C C Technologies P/L plays an intragal part.

C C Technologies and its operations have assisted in a proactive partnership in the factory refrigeration plant water treatment and supporting our risk management and preventative maintenance programs.

C C Technologies technical support and service has provided an efficient and low maintenance, water treatment system using silver colloidal technology. Monthly total bacteria (HCC) and quarterly Legionella testing results reflect the effectiveness of the new treatment. Since the commencement of the silver colloidal treatment the cooling tower bacterial counts are the lowest ever recorded and the appearance of the cooling tower water is clear and free of particulate matter.

It is a pleasure working in co-operation with C C Technologies, and our partnership and working relationship will extend into the future.

Yours faithfully,
Makmur Enterprises Pty Ltd
